

hello!

I'm Alexa! I live in Southern Utah with my husband and four kiddos. By day I am designer, dreamer, and do-er. Pippi Post was born out of love for snail mail, handwritten lists, celebrating the small stuff, and that fuzzy feeling you get inside that only happens when you're around really cute stationery. My hope for this brand is that it can be used for sending little pick-me-ups to all the lovely people in your life and don't forget to save some for yourself. Here's to spreading a little bit of kindness.
